GLASS SAYS IS PLAN TO DELAY

CHAIRMAN OF HOUSE COMMITTEE DOUBTS VANDERLIP'S GOOD FAITH.

IS NOT CONSISTENT

QUOTES LETTER WRITTEN IN JULY BY BANKER.

AT THAT TIME FOUGHT CHANGE

Now, Says Leader, He Offers Central Bank Proposal With All "Objectionable" Features.

Washington, Oct. 26.—Reconstruction of the administration currency bill begins tomorrow behind closed doors in the senate banking committee. The issue is clearly drawn between the bill as passed by the house and the central bank plan proposed by President Frank A. Vanderlip, of the National City bank of New York.

Whether the administration bill backed by President Wilson's expressed uncompromising opposition to the Vanderlip plan and renewed support from administration supporters will emerge triumphant from the senate, or whether a middle ground will be found between the two measures is the most question in the situation. The senate committee begins work with a majority of its members admittedly favoring the Vanderlip idea. Administration supporters, viewing the fact, declare that such a measure could not be passed in the house and that the committee therefore must work with the administration bill as a basis, preserving its fundamental if currency legislation is not to be indefinitely delayed.

Chairman Glass of the house committee, one of the framers of the administration bill, issued a statement tonight on the Vanderlip question. It was practically as follows: "I have somewhere read that in England—or maybe it was in Scotland—they used to have an annual fox hunt at one stage of which, with hounds hard pressed, a red herring was drawn across the trail to divert the pursuit and give the fox another chance. Of course, what is popularly styled the money power in this country is not fox nor would anybody dream of running a red herring across the trail of the Vanderlip scheme of November."

"Yet it happens to be a fact that the house currency bill is designed to correct the radical defects of a system under which concentration of wealth has ruled the nation; and, likewise, it happens to be a fact that the Vanderlip scheme is projected at the eleventh hour of congressional consideration with the hope of indefinite postponement of currency legislation should the scheme be given serious attention. If Mr. Vanderlip's scheme was not actually designed to delay and frustrate currency legislation, it will, if given consideration, have that inevitable effect."

"On July 24 Mr. Vanderlip wrote me a letter voicing the protest of himself and other bankers against certain provisions of the house bill and I wonder that he had so soon forgotten with what vehemence he assailed that feature of the measure which involves government control. He declared the principle to be 'practically inexpedient and fundamentally wrong.' The objection," wrote Mr. Vanderlip, "is not to the powers granted to the federal reserve board, but to the hands in which they are placed." Asserting that "history furnishes an ample illustration of the danger of ineffectiveness, the inadequacy of politically appointed boards," Mr. Vanderlip went to the extreme by saying "if such a board as proposed were formed by appointing the seven leading bankers of the United States—whenever they may be—and these men became disassociated from the daily conduct of actual affairs and sat in Washington directing at arms length the operation of the several reserve banks they would very rapidly lose the power to direct wisely. It seems to me that the only proper method of control must be through a board composed of practical bankers in direct touch with the currency business, who are selected for short terms by the member banks."

Says Vanderlip Not Consistent.

"In direct contradiction of this proposition, Mr. Vanderlip and his Wall Street associates come here at the last hour, flinging consistency to the winds, proposing politically appointed board, not one member of which is to be selected by the stockholding banks but by the president of the United States."

WELCOME WILSON TO DIXIE LAND

THOUSANDS OF SOUTHERN PEOPLE MEET TRAIN AT HAMBLETS AND CITIES.

SAYS IS LIKE COMING HOME

Talks to Diplomats Aboard Special. Speaks of Clear Sympathies Between Latin-American Countries.

(On Board President Wilson's Special Train, Atlanta, Ga.)

Thousands of southern folk in great cheering throngs welcomed President Wilson to Dixie land today as he sped through Virginia, North and South Carolina and Georgia, en route to the Southern Commercial congress at Mobile, Ala., where he will deliver an address tomorrow on "Rural Credits."

The shrill notes of the "rebel yell" at Salisbury, N. C., awakened the president earlier than he had intended to rise and as the autumn sunlight streaked over the Blue Ridge a pilgrimage of admiring hosts began. At villages and hamlets, where the president's train ran slowly, at cities where stops were made to change engines, there were huge crowds, enthusiastic and happy, their first glimpse of Woodrow Wilson, the first native of the south elevated to the presidency since the civil war.

"We walked fifteen miles to see you," said, and hundreds of hands were raised in the air as the president appeared on the car platform at Charlotte. They told Mr. Wilson they were from Davidson college, where he had prepared for Princeton. The president greeted them warmly.

Like Coming Home Again.

"It's like coming home again," he said, and hundreds of hands were stretched toward him amid cheers. Mr. Wilson shook hands with many, but refrained from making any speeches.

"Speech, speech," cried the crowd at Spartanburg, S. C.

"It is Sunday," smiled the president.

"Well, we have just come from church," they insisted.

"You could preach, you know?" "I can not preach," remarked the president, modestly.

"A political sermon?" suggested a voice, and the president joined in the laugh that followed.

Big boxes of flowers were presented to the president over the rail of his special car at many points. The biggest demonstration occurred at Salisbury and Charlotte, Spartanburg and Greenville, S. C., and Gainesville, and Atlanta, Ga.

Many of the cities brought smaller meetings to mind, as Mr. Wilson spent his early life in this region. He practiced law in Atlanta. The Misses Margaret and Jessie Wilson were born at Gainesville, and the president pointed out the house to Dr. Grayson as the train rolled by.

Secretary Daniels of the navy department, who is also to speak at Mobile, was given a warm welcome en route, particularly in his home state, North Carolina.

The president's train were about 200 people bound for the Southern Commercial congress. Senator Fletcher of Florida, president of the organization, took a party of the delegation back into the president's car, during the afternoon, to shake hands and air respects to the president. Among them were Minister Peto of Peru, Minister Morales of Panama, Consul General Cunha of Brazil and Consul General Pardo of Argentina.

The president told the diplomats that his main reason for going to Mobile was that the meeting was suggestive of closer relations with their countries. He spoke informally of the great benefits that would accrue from the Panama canal, declaring that although the waterway practically severed the two continents it would make for a closer union in every other respect.

President Wilson was startled here this afternoon by the loud explosion of a photographer's overloaded flashlight. One of his secret service guards rushed to the scene of the explosion, only a few feet from where the president was shaking hands with a crowd of citizens. The photographer was ejected from the train shed.

For several moments, Mr. Wilson ceased shaking hands and turning to the photographer shook his finger and said something that could not be heard. The president refused to comment on the Mexican situation in any way during his brief stay in Atlanta. It is understood he received telegrams concerning the situation on his way from Washington, but it was said none was important.

CAMPAIGN IS BITTER

LAST WEEK IN FIGHT FOR OFFICES IN GREATER NEW YORK.

Hennessey, "Executive Auditor" of State is Center of Interest—Sulzer Fights Tammany.

New York, Oct. 26.—With election day only a little more than a week off, the campaign for municipal offices in Greater New York, which had been the taking of a quiet canvass for votes unmarked with animosity, outwardly expressed between leaders of the various factions, has suddenly developed within the last few days into a seething battle of wits, of bitterness, of charges of graft in public office and political trickery.

This new order of things was largely brought about by the entrance into the campaign of John A. Hennessey, "executive auditor" of the state, political appointee of Wm. Sulzer, the deposed governor, who himself has returned to the scenes of his early triumphs in an endeavor to return to Albany as a member of the state assembly.

It is on Hennessey rather than on his late chief—the deposed governor—that all eyes are turned, and from whose lips come statements, charges and challenges that have caused the awakening of interest among voters and led the Tammany leaders to plan counter charges. Fresh from investigations of various state departments as executive auditor, Hennessey has entered the local campaign, speaking several times nightly, telling of what he alleges his investigations have uncovered and challenging the occupants of state and city officials and their associates to reply.

Hennessey Center of Interest.

Hennessey, the most picturesque figure in the canvass, was born in Ireland 44 years ago and came with his parents to Brooklyn when a boy. He began his newspaper training as an office boy and rose to the position of managing editor of the New York Press, serving in the meantime one term in the state assembly, during which he gained the lifelong friendship of Wm. Sulzer, then democratic floor leader. When Sulzer became governor one of his early appointees was Hennessey, as executive auditor.

Although not an aggressive as Hennessey, John Purroy Mitchell, fusion nominee for mayor, is making his fight on Tammany Hall and McCall, its candidate, as the alleged tool of Chas. F. Murphy, Tammany leader, Charles Edwards Russell, socialist candidate, is opposing both Mitchell and McCall as "boss controlled."

Aside from the mayoralty campaign there are many contests for minor offices and for the state assembly. With all these candidates active and with Hennessey promising additional disclosures, with Sulzer's continued speech-making in the east and McCall, Mitchell and Russell speaking almost continuously every day, the present week bids fair to be the hottest of the campaign. The election will be held November 4.

Sulzer Explains Rupture.

In an address before an inter-denominational church meeting in a Broadway theatre today Wm. Sulzer explained that it was a question of patronage—appointments to office—that led to his rupture with Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, and resulted in his impeachment and removal from the office of governor.

"The truth, however," Sulzer declared, "that my troubles with the 'boss' arose out of our conceptions of honesty and dishonesty."

The deposed governor also asserted that "Hennessey is telling the truth," adding that "Hennessey is going to tell the story of the canal graft later on."

Summing up his story, Sulzer said: "My real trouble with Mr. Murphy was on account of graft. He wanted me to let the graft go on. I refused. If I had agreed I would be the governor today, but because I made up my mind that I was going to do my duty and that no influence would control me in performance but the dictates of my conscience, Mr. Murphy set in motion every agency he could command until I was finally removed from office because Mr. Murphy had the votes to do it in the legislature."

That is the story—the story of graft.

McCall Denies Charges.

Edward E. McCall, candidate for mayor on the democratic ticket, issued a statement tonight specifically denying charges or insinuations by John A. Hennessey in the latter's recent speeches for the fusion municipal ticket that McCall had paid for his nomination to the supreme court bench. McCall in his statement does not mention Hennessey by name, alluding to him as "an individual employed by the fusion party or enlisted in their services."

"I want to stamp his utterance or his insinuation," the statement sums it up, "as a gross and outrageous slander without the slightest vestige of truth and constituting an outrage that necessarily will call for further action."

Ryan Reaffirms Statement.

In a statement issued tonight Allan Ryan reaffirmed his testimony before the high court of impeachment at Albany concerning his contribution of $10,000 to the Sulzer campaign fund, to which the deposed governor took exception last night in a speech in the state assembly.

Regarding Sulzer's story of the telephone conversations preceding the contribution, Ryan declares that "Sulzer is not telling the truth." Ryan

DIAZ RESIGNS AS ARMY OFFICER

LAST THREAD BINDING HIM TO HUERTA HAS BEEN SEVERED.

REFUSES TO LEAVE VERA CRUZ

Frankly Tells Bearer of Provisional President's Message Does Not Intend to Go to Capital.

Vera Cruz, Oct. 26.—The last thread binding Felix Diaz and General Victoriano Huerta was severed today when General Diaz telegraphed to the department of war his resignation as brigadier general of the army.

The notification regarding Diaz's return to the capital at the invitation of the provisional president ended by his flat refusal to accompany Colonel Vidaurazaga, secretary to General Blanquet, war minister, giving as his reason the illness of his wife.

Colonel Vidaurazaga continued his efforts to induce General Diaz to change his decision, but finally left for the capital on a special train tonight. Diaz and his family remained here.

The few captives of Diaz who have stood guard in his rooms at the hotel the last four days also left for their hotels in Mexico City, but a handful of supporters are still here, subject to the orders of their political chief. The building is being closely watched by plain clothes men and police from points of vantage in the streets and on roofs.

Believes Retirement Will Be Granted.

General Diaz expresses the belief that the war department will grant his application for retirement, though a few of his friends pessimistically point to the possibility that the answer may come in the form of an order of arrest.

General Diaz said tonight he realized he had had no chance for election to the presidency. His plans for the future are not yet made but he expects to establish a temporary residence in Vera Cruz.

Senora Diaz is not seriously ill but was sufficiently so to serve as an excuse early in the day for delay in the promised return of General Diaz to the capital. Colonel Vidaurazaga's importunities eventually resulted in the frank declaration from Diaz that he did not intend to go.

Only casual interest in the election was shown by Diaz, who accepted his defeat as a matter of course.

The only incident personally touching him was the arrest of his brother-in-law, Leandre Alcolea, for alleged interference at one of the polls. Senor Alcolea protested against what he considered irregularities and a policeman joined him in the discussion. An hour later the policeman had been made a soldier and Alcolea was in jail.

Says Resignation Demanded.

Vera Cruz, Oct. 26.—The announcement was made late tonight that the resignation of General Felix Diaz, as brigadier general, was demanded by the war department.

Day Is Quiet.

Vera Cruz, Oct. 26.—The election in Vera Cruz did not disturb the city's usual Sunday calm, the only noticeable difference being the absence of the weekly bull fight, which was prohibited by the authorities in a decree announcing that there must be no demonstrations.

The official report of just how many votes were cast will not be made public for several days, but all Vera Cruz knows that the 22 polling places in the city were almost unattended.

President Wilson's personal representative, John Lind, strolled about during the day and inspected a few

VOTING INSUFFICIENT TO MAKE THE MEXICAN ELECTIONS LEGAL

WASHINGTON ADVISED

U. S. OFFICIALS KEEP IN CLOSE TOUCH WITH MEXICAN SITUATION.

Battleships Must Leave—Huerta's Six Months' Permission Expires—Will Change Monthly.

Washington, Oct. 26.—Officials in Washington today kept in constant touch with the state department for news from the Mexican elections and President Wilson, though absent en route to the southern commercial congress at Mobile, was kept advised of the situation as it was reflected from Mexico City.

Secretary Bryan was in communication with his office until late tonight. He received a long cipher cablegram from the special American envoy, John Lind, in Vera Cruz. This message, the contents of which were not made public, was reported to contain a summary of instructions sent to the Mexican government from the Huerta government for the conduct of the election. Tonight messages were received from Nelson O'Shaughnessy, the American charge at Mexico City, stating that the elections in Mexico were being conducted quietly. But little excitement was apparent anywhere, Mr. O'Shaughnessy wired with voting extremely light.

Mr. Tumulty, secretary to the president, conferred with Mr. Bryan tonight on the situation and later announced that nothing of importance had been reported.

The six months' limit under which American battleships have been in Mexican waters by permission of the Huerta government, expired today. Huerta has given notice it would not be renewed and a Mexican statute forbids the presence of a foreign ship without permission more than a month at a time. Ships of the Atlantic fleet will sail this week from Hampton Roads to replace those at Vera Cruz and the expectation is that the ships will be changed monthly and thus come within the designation of visitors.

MONTEREY NOT FALLEN

STREET FIGHTING STILL IN PROGRESS, SAY CONSTITUTIONALISTS.

Federals Being Forced Back—Rebels Hold La Calzada Avenue, Railway Station, Brewery and Hotel.

Brownsville, Tex., Oct. 26.—Monterey had not been captured last night, and separate street fighting was still in progress, according to official constitutionalist advice received at their headquarters at Matamoros today.

Private advices said the constitutionalists had sustained heavy losses and that the besiegers were being chased by 3,000 federals.

The constitutionalists claim to have taken the La Calzada avenue, the Mexican National railway station, a brewery and the Hotel Deloitte, from which section their troops were forcing the federals back toward the center of the city.

This information was transmitted to Matamoros, according to officials, by a relay courier service from Monterey to Herrerias, 90 miles, thence by telegraph to Matamoros.

Private telegrams were received in Matamoros today dated Monterey, which said the constitutionalists had been badly defeated in two days of fighting, and that their main body was being chased by 3,000 federals.

A former mayor of Matamoros signed a dispatches.

Jimenez has about 4,000 population and is held by a federal garrison of 400.

Federals Held City.

Mexico City, Oct. 26.—A message from Consul Philip C. Hanna at Monterey to the American embassy says that after three days' fighting quiet has prevailed since Saturday night. No foreigners were injured. The message said the federals held the city.

MEXICAN WOMAN TO U. S.

Widow With Three Small Children Put Across Border Because of Sympathies With Carranza.

Laredo, Tex., Oct. 26.—Silveria Garcia, a widow, and her three children, Paul, Urbano and Consuela, were deported from Mexico to the United States yesterday, being escorted to the international boundary by two soldiers. The only known charge against her was being a Carranza sympathizer. She was arrested in Nuevo Laredo. When she asked the charge against her, officers replied she was a Carranza and they did not want her in Mexico, despite the fact that she was a Mexican citizen. Contrary to the usual custom she was manifested by American immigration authorities as a refugee and permitted to enter, although she had no money and no visible means to support herself and children beyond earnings as a servant or a wash woman.

Rains Damage Cotton.

Marlin, Oct. 26.—Farmers complain that the recent rains have damaged cotton crops to the extent of $15 per bale. This in addition to the waste in the fields, is a heavy loss to farmers of the county.

Less Than 10,000 of 80,000 Eligible Voters in District Go to the Polls—Catholic Party Claims the Lead.

HUERTA INCREASES ARMY TO 150,000

Ballot Boxes Are Anything From Shoe Box to Jewel Case—Placed Mainly at Entrances to Buildings. Candidates Do Not Vote.

Mexico City, Oct. 26.—At the close of the elections today the indications were that not sufficient votes had been cast in Mexico to constitute a legal choice for the presidency to succeed General Victoriano Huerta.

No official announcement was made tonight, but it was officially estimated, judging from the results in the capital, where it was expected the vote would be up to the average, that less than 10,000 of the 80,000 eligible voters in the district went to the polls. It would be no surprise if congress, the members of which also were voted for today, declared the elections void when that body is organized and revises the returns.

The leaders of the Catholic party claimed a long lead, although they were unable to estimate the number of votes polled for their candidates, Federico Gamboa and General Rascon.

U. S. BUTT OF JOKE

ELECTION AT PIEDRAS NEGRAS CONSIDERED A FARCE BY VOTERS.

Officers Cast Ballots for Soldiers—All for Huerta—No Notices of Elections.

Eagle Pass, Tex., Oct. 26.—Victoria no Huerta was the overwhelming choice for president of Mexico as expressed in the votes cast in today's election at Piedras Negras.

Felix Diaz was the only rival of the provisional president, and he received less than 100 votes. Of 2,300 votes cast, General Huerta is shown in official figures to have received more than 95 per cent or approximately 2,200.

The day passed quietly and without material disorder.

There were two street rows between soldiers, who formed the bulk of voters, but these disorders were quickly quelled and the participants arrested.

No public notice that the election would be held was given in Piedras Negras and many citizens were not aware that the polls had been opened.

Early this morning it was announced that an election would be illegal as the country is not in a state of peace. Orders from Mexico City, it is said, caused the federal authorities to change their view and hurried preparations were made to comply with the election proclamation.

No ballots had been received and each voter was required to give his name and choice to a teller. This fact was not known until the election was over.

Soldiers were voted first. Their officers cast their votes for them, and each man his choice, after the garrison had been told they might vote for whom they pleased. Without an exception, so far as known, the men replied "Huerta."

News that the soldiers were voting created mild excitement, and after that a small number of citizens appeared to say whom they preferred at the head of the government. Some appearing after the closing hour of 2 o'clock were allowed to vote, when they complained they had been told that no election would be held.

It is probable that not enough precincts were opened and votes cast in Piedras Negras comply with constitutional requirements to make the election legal.

Many voters appeared to regard the election as a joke in which the Americans were the butt.

A joke passed near army headquarters in Piedras Negras a burlesque bulletin announcing the candidates today as:

"Victoriano Huerta," "William Grapefruit," "Woodrow Bluff."

Early in the day no apparent attention had been given to this sign by the federal authorities. It caused considerable joking from passers-by.

OTHER POWERS ARE NOT UNFRIENDLY

Washington, Oct. 26.—According to unofficial advices received here today the exchanges of views between the European powers at Paris was preparatory to showing the United States that action in Mexico City hitherto by the various foreign governments was not intended as an evidence of unfriendly feeling.

It is believed the movement toward showing this country concerted friendliness was instituted by the French government. Upon the outcome of these diplomatic maneuvers across the ocean depends, it is understood, whether or not the Washington government will issue the already prepared note defining its views that interference by governments with the American policy toward Mexico was not desired.

Many people conversant with the situation predicted that the United States already had reason to feel that Europe was preparing to manifest a spirit of co-operation and that the issuance of the proclamation might offend the sensibilities of those nations which, up to the present, had refrained from embarrassing the United States in any way.

President Wilson, though absent from Washington, was kept constantly advised of the situation. Just what the next step in the American policy will be has not yet been determined by the officials themselves. It is believed a course of action will be framed on the outcome of the Mexican election and the incidents of election day.

Should the election fail to result in a choice and indication point toward Huerta being continued in power for a long period, some move on the part of Europeans in support of the American demand for the elimination of Huerta from the situation is looked for. The reported capture of Monterey by the constitutionalists and the progress being made by them toward establishing a government is closely watched here.

STRIKERS AND GUARDS IN BATTLE

Ludlow, Colo., Oct. 26.—A general battle between strikers, mine guards and deputy sheriffs was waged for twelve hours today in Berwin canyon at Hastings and in the vicinity of the Colorado and Southern station at Ludlow.

Firing started at 8 o'clock this morning and continued intermittently until nearly 4 o'clock this afternoon. One mine guard was killed, and, according to union men, one striker is missing.

The situation is extremely critical tonight. More than 700 armed strikers are reported to be in the field against the mine guards. Armed strikers patrol the entire district in the vicinity of Ludlow and communicate with the camps of Cedar Hill, Tellerburg, Berwin, Hastings, Dulagua and Tobasco, practically have been cut off.

The firing started this morning in the vicinity of the Colorado and Southern bridge, the sons of yesterday's battle. The guards, it is said, retreated in the direction of Cedar Hill and Tobasco.

At daylight the strikers from the Ludlow tent colony made their way along the hills past Cedar Hill to Tobasco and opened a meeting fire on that camp. The guard who was killed was struck while returning the fire of the strikers of the mine tippie at Tobasco.

The attack on Hastings began at about 11 o'clock. Shots rained on the camp from two quarters for nearly two hours, but according to officials of the Victor American Fuel company no serious damage was done.

The final skirmish of the day was an attack by strikers along the Colorado and Southern tracks near Barnes Station on a passing Denver and Rio Grande train, which the strikers declared was carrying mine guards.

The Weather

BR-R! I WISHT THEYD PUT POKKETH IN MY DRETHETH!

Clear and cold for Waco today is the prediction of Dr. I. Block local volunteer weather observer. There will be little, if any, change in the temperatures of yesterday, he said.

Local Temperatures.

State of thermometer and barometer yesterday as recorded by Dr. Block: Maximum 53, minimum 45, barometer 30.23, humidity 60, rainfall 32. Total wind passage for twenty-four hours ended at 9 o'clock last night 211 miles, the highest velocity being 23 miles an hour, between 12 and 1 o'clock.

his family early in the day to the country. After he returned tonight he said:

"I understood the voting was exceedingly dull. Nobody appears to believe in the seriousness of the election. On account of the political conditions many refused to vote. I myself, did not. Had we had indirect balloting, I would have done so, but since it was otherwise I did not care to cast a vote either for myself or any other candidate."

Federico Gamboa, the candidate of the Catholic party, on the other hand cast a ballot for Senor Calero. Neither of these candidates cared to express an opinion as to whether a sufficient number of ballots had been deposited to make the elections constitutional.

Those who went to the polls took the trouble to vote for either senators or deputies.

Examples of Lack of Activity.

Examples of lack of activity in voting made at random after the closing of the polls at three places in thickly populated districts are:

Eleven votes cast out of an eligible 80; 12 cast out of an eligible 75, and 27 cast out of an eligible 350.

One suburban polling place reported 21 voters out of 80 eligible exercising the franchise. These figures are regarded as fairly representative of the voting in the capital.

The nearest approach of any district in bringing out its full voting strength occurred in one block where 14 men were eligible. Thirteen of these men cast their ballots.

The fourteenth man was in jail. At 10 o'clock tonight everything was quiet and absolute order prevailed.

Soldiers Not Allowed to Vote.

El Paso, Oct. 26.—Although the federal military in Juarez were given orders forbidding their voting at today's national election, the election was not marred by disorders of any kind and 90 per cent of the votes cast in the border town were for Felix Diaz for president and Federico Gamboa for vice president.

The voting was the highest the town has experienced. Federal officials in Juarez refused to give their reasons for not permitting the soldiers to vote. After reaching their decision they sent the troops away from town on scouting trips so there could be no protests.

Huerta Carries Lower California.

Calixto, Cal., Oct. 26.—In the Lower California elections today General Victoriano Huerta received a majority of the few votes cast. One vote was cast for Felix Diaz and one for Gamboa.

FOR PRISON REFORM

SEVENTEEN RECOMMENDATIONS IN MANAGEMENT SUGGESTED BY T. M. OSBORNE.

Member New York Commission Spends Period Behind Bars Investigating Conditions.

Auburn, N. Y., Oct. 26.—Seventeen urgent recommendations for reforms in the management of the Auburn state prison were made by the state prison commission, as a result of the week which the commission's chairman, Thomas Mott Osborne, spent behind the bars in the guise of a convict. Mr. Osborne presented the report to the state superintendent of prisons this afternoon. The recommendations follow:

1. Privacy in bathing new arrivals. Now the men are bathed in a tub in the shop full view of the convicts working there.

2. More frequent baths. One bath a week is insufficient for men engaged in hard manual labor.

Each convict should have three suits of underwear. At the present time the condition of the bodies and underclothing of convicts is far from healthy, because of perspiration. If an extra suit were in each cell a man could use one for wear, one for night clothes and one would be in the wash. Now the men sleep in their underwear and wear it day times.

3. Prisoners should be allowed to read newspapers and magazines.

4. More Writing Privileges.

5. Less waiting and receiving letters and drastic revision. Take away a man's benefits, if necessary to punish him but do not deprive him of his friends and family.

6. While the food is good, the coffee and tea are execrable and the report commends the abolition of the use of tea and improvement in the coffee. Tea, it says, is harmful because it causes constipation and sleeplessness.

7. The system which sends men to punishment cells on very limited portions of bread and water is brutal and unnecessary.

8. A graded system of punishment should be adopted for offenses. There is no sense of proportion or fairness in the present manner of meting out punishment. The punishment for whispering is the same as for assault.

9. There seems no good reason for enforcing a policy of silence. Men are made to talk and you cannot change the force of nature.

10. In the case of punishment meted to prisoners involving the extreme penalty of the punishment cells there should be direct action by the warden and punishment only after a hearing by him.

11. The sale of tobacco and groceries should be regulated with greater care. Excessive use of special privileges is often harmful to the prisoners.

12. In Auburn there should be a sale of matches as in Sing Sing. Men are now forced to use flint and steel.

13. Provision for Rainy Day Clothes.

14. Convicts are now forced to march through the long yard and often become drenched. On return to their cells they have no alternative but to go to bed or sit up in wet clothes, there being no change of clothing in the cell. A water proof cape for use in inclement weather is suggested.

15. The kitchen should have a civilian cook. Only a professional cook can obtain the best results from the material provided.

16. The "play hour" time allowed for playing musical instruments should be extended.

17. The prison rules which are incomplete should be rectified.

18. The taking of a convict's record should be simplified.

of the polls but was unable to find any voters.

Extra police patrols were not necessary, no demonstrations of any kind were made.

General Diaz declined the invitation by the provisional president to return to the capital. In the vicinity where General Diaz has taken up his residence scores of plain clothes men and police were in evidence. Their presence, it was explained by the authorities, was to afford General Diaz full protection. Anticipating reports that might be circulated that he spent Sunday in the American consulate, and therefore was not on Mexican soil on election day, General Felix Diaz signed before a notary this evening a statement that he had not left the hotel where he is residing during the day.

General Diaz refused finally to accompany Colonel Vidaurranga to the capital, giving as his reason the illness of his wife.

Almost at the same time twenty soldiers who came from Mexico City as a guard for General Diaz and the officer in command of the detachment were ordered to quarters under arrest.

The refusal of General Diaz to proceed to Mexico City was officially reported to President Huerta.

Federals Abandon Culiacan.

Hermosillo, Oct. 26.—General Avaro Obregon telegraphed General Venustiano Carranza, head of the constitutional movement today that the federals had abandoned Culiacan, capital of the state of Sinaloa. This leaves Guaymas and Mazatlan the only cities still in the hands of the Huerta forces. There was no election today in the states of Sonora and Sinaloa and the territory of Tepic. The federal garrison at Guaymas and Mazatlan, according to rebels, went through the form of casting ballots for Huerta.

RECOGNITION ENDED

THE LONDON DAILY TELEGRAPH SAYS ELECTIONS TERMINATE RELATIONS.

English and American Correspondence Is Friendly—Carden's Interview Has No Bearing.

London, Oct. 26.—The Daily Telegraph in a special article on the Mexican situation, agrees that Great Britain recognized President Huerta only for a limited period, which terminated yesterday's elections.

The diplomatic state, says the paper, is now clear and it cannot be too strongly insisted that any refusal of General Huerta to respect his undertaking not to accept the presidency, or that any violence shown toward prisoners or the strained relations between Mexico and the United States, it further states that Sir Edward Grey has taken Ambassador Page fully into his confidence, that the most pleasant relations exist between the American ambassador and the British foreign office and that whatever action may seem necessary after the elections the same frank and friendly correspondence will continue. Great Britain will observe entire neutrality and will not interfere unless some arrangements for joint political action can be made or unless the United States suggests its inability to deal in a military way with its turbulent neighbor.

The Times in an editorial this morning protesting against the sensational attempts on both sides of the Atlantic to represent the relations between England and the United States as strained, pays a tribute to Woodrow Wilson's Swarthmore speech, as showing by what very high ideals the president's view is supported.

"We don't question the elevation or sincerity of these sentiments," adds the Times, "but we do question how far they may be practical politics. If the United States government has a practical plan for realizing the immediate benefits which we and they agree Mexico requires, we shall be ready to give it our most friendly consideration, but to speak frankly we do not believe in establishing a government in Mexico which will realize even roughly President Wilson's ideals."

HAND SHIELDED KANE'S HEART

By Involuntary Movement of Arm Wounded Man Saved His Life.

Hunt for Upton Is Fruitless.

To an involuntary movement of the left hand, Isaac Kane, who was shot after a quarrel with his adopted son, Lee Upton, in the ward of his home on the Downside road, last Saturday night, owes his life.

When the shot was fired Kane instinctively raised his left arm to protect his body and as he did so he turned the palm of his left hand outward. The bulk of the lead of No. 4 shot from the double-barrel gun entered the palm, literally tearing the hand to tatters.

Kane May Lose Left Hand.

The surgeons at the Providence sanitarium, who are attending the patient, will probably have to amputate three or four fingers, if not the entire mangled hand.

Police of the county and city have united in the search for Upton, who fled on the bare back of a horse after the shooting. The county officers made a futile effort yesterday to locate the missing youth and a general lookout order issued to the city police brought no better results. The police are convinced that Upton has left the county.

ITALIANS' ELECTIONS QUIET.

Spring Like Weather Holds Down Rioting.

Rome, Oct. 26.—While the results of today's general elections, held throughout Italy, will not be definitely known until late tomorrow, efficient returns were received tonight to assure the government of a large majority. Reports received so far show that out of 568 constituencies, 157 liberals or ministerialists, 23 moderate and 17 socialist politicians and 10 clericals have been elected.

Some disorder occurred, but it was not as grave as had been expected would result. One man was killed and a number wounded in several affairs.

The balloting was light because the spring-like weather caused the people to go on excursions rather than to the polls.

Giovanni Giolitti, the premier, has been re-elected almost unanimously with the other members of his cabinet. Others elected include ex-premier Baron Sidney Sonnino and Luigi Luzzatti. Martinello Martini, socialist leader; Leonadi Bassolati-Sigermaschl, republican leader; Signor Barzilli and the former minister of public instruction, Nunzio Nasi, who served a term in prison for embezzlement and later was sent several times to the chamber of deputies only to have his election annulled.

Prince Scipione Borghese and Prince Teano, both radicals, failed of reelection in their Rome constituencies. Signor Turati, the socialist leader, was re-elected.

In a hundred constituencies a fierce struggle was waged, especially between socialist and Catholics and in these a second ballot will be taken next Sunday. In some constituencies particularly in the Venetian provinces, ecclesiastics voted openly. At Cesena the bishop was the first to go to the polls.

Colquitt at Dallas. Dallas, Oct. 26.—Gov. O. B. Colquitt arrived in Dallas late Saturday night and will remain in the city until Tuesday. He declined to discuss politics, declaring his visit was of a personal nature. While here he met his two sons. Monday he will be a visitor at the Texas State Fair.

DREAMS OF UNITY

OLIVER HUCKEL OF BALTIMORE ADDRESSES CONGREGATION-ALISTS AT KANSAS CITY.

Many Subjects Touched On—Labor and Church Attendance Discussed. Just Reward for Worker.

Kansas City, Oct. 26.—The dream of the Congregational church is the unity of the Church of Jesus Christ. Rev. Oliver Huckel of Baltimore thus defined the church's position in an address this afternoon. Prominent leaders occupied pulpits today and spoke on various subjects. Rev. Chas. E. Jefferson of New York city declared America has four dragons to meet and conquer, the first of which is greed.

"Mothers of the nation should devote less time to social diversion and more to the training of their sons and daughters," declared Moderator Chas. R. Brown, dean of Yale divinity school. Rev. Carl S. Patton of Columbus, Ohio, explored the tendency of ministers to discuss from the pulpit and in the press the alleged decadence of the church.

Rev. Ernest B. Allen of Toledo asked a campaign for bringing young boys, who are kept from attending public school through poverty or misfortune, into the Sunday schools.

Secretary Henry A. Atkinson of Chicago addressed a joint meeting of church leaders and the industrial church at Labor temple, defining the church's attitude toward labor.

"The wisest method of church unity," said Dr. Huckel, "is consolidation—an organic unity on terms of equality with the preservation of the valuable points in each community allowing all desired diversity in worship and work. Such a consolidation would lead to a great national church—the United Church of the United States—a party of the United church throughout the world."

Dr. Jefferson dwelt on the need of a reinstatement of the doctrine of Christ to meet twentieth century problems.

Four American Dragons.

"America has four dragons to meet and conquer," he said. "The first is greed—it eats like a cancer in the vitals of our nation."

"The second is lust, it burns like a consuming fire in our blood and our homes."

"The third is worldliness, which is always contracting our horizon and bringing down our standards."

"The fourth is atheism of force, the doctrine that declares national greatness is founded on naval tonnage."

Cheers greeted Secretary Atkinson's announcement of the Congregational church's attitude towards labor. He said the church brotherhood was going forward with an active campaign to right industrial wrongs and that the campaign would be extensive.

"We are injuring two million persons in cleanliness, sanitation and elimination of industrial disease. If a man labors we are going to see that his toil produces enough for his needs for today and the day to come. Our slogan is for his toil the worker shall have adequate reward."

John T. Smith, president of the industrial Council, asked the church not to be hard with labor because it had the misfortune in the past to have chosen a number of bad leaders.

"There are bad men everywhere," he said; "bad lawyers, doctors, ministers and bankers. At the last convention of your church in Boston the question was asked, 'Why don't the working man go to church?' A commission appointed to find out went to Pittsburgh and Allegheny, Pa., and discovered that a great steel company was working its employees, several thousand of them, twelve hours a day, seven days a week. How could the men go to church?"

ITALY HURRIES MINISTER.

Signor Cambiagio Goes Immediately to Mexico.

Rome, Oct. 26.—Owing to the complications in Mexico, Signor Cambiagio, the newly appointed minister to that country, has been ordered to proceed immediately to his post.

The Osservatore Romano, the Vatican organ, commenting on the Mexican situation, says it is becoming graver daily because, in addition to a possible conflict between Mexico and the United States, there is also a threat of British intervention. The paper hints at trouble arising through rivalry between British and American financial groups for possession of Mexican mines.

WILLIE HAD AN OVERCOAT.

Everywhere That Willie Went Police Insisted the Coat Should Go, Too. All is vanity, saith the preacher.

Willie Wilder was brought into the city hall last night by Patrolmen Barnard and Buchanan, charged with carrying a pistol. Willie is a "cullud gemman." He was arrayed in a gentlemanly suit of delicate brown, very neat, and freshly pressed.

In front of the calaboose door he halted and pulled off the coat. "I'd like to leave this out here," he said. Then he looked hesitatingly at the beautifully creased trousers. The mercury was down in the forties last night. The officers, bundled in overcoats, shivered, and looked into the fireless calaboose, with its windows wide open.

"Get back into that coat," said one of them. "We don't want to pack out any frozen niggers in the morning." So the immaculate apparel was "pinned" along with its wearer, and forced to spend the night alongside greasy jumpers and overalls.

Wedding Surprises at Rogers. Rogers, Tex., Oct. 26.—Two weddings that occurred during the past week in which two popular young couples figured as principals furnished surprises to the many friends of the latter. Miss Minnie Cox and Mr. Austin Lowery were united in marriage at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Hendrick, by Rev. C. H. Webb, and Miss Emma Jones and Leava Weaver stole a march on their friends by going to Temple in an automobile accompanied by Miss Mattie Jones and Ernest Weatherbee, where they were married at high noon and left at once for Dallas to pay a visit to the state fair.

CHILDREN HATE OIL, CALOMEL AND PILLS

"CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS" BEST FOR TENDER STOMACH, LIVER, BOWELS.

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "doses" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach; and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

"PRISON REFORM DAY" OBSERVED

RELIGIOUS SERVICES, MUSIC AND EXTRA FARE FOR THE PRISONERS.

MYRE SPEAKS IN CITY JAIL

Prisoners in County Bastile Receive Flowers From Mrs. B. F. Baker. Touching Acknowledgment.

Standing outside the prisoners' compartment and addressing the inmates of the county jail yesterday, Oscar Myre announced that he was so interested in them that he was coming into their cells next week, and get "next to them" in reality. The prisoners greeted the announcement with applause. They were frank enough to say that they thought Mr. Myre was "all to the good," and they will be glad to see him whenever he comes.

"He is a good fellow," said one of them. "He knows what he talks about. He says he used to drink champagne at night, and wake up with a real pain in the morning, and knows by experience just what we are up against."

The services at the jail, which were conducted in commemoration of "Prison Reform Day," were marked by speeches from Captain Elkins of the Salvation Army, assisted by music and short talks from other members of the local army organization, and by music and talks from B. B. Steger and a dozen students of Baylor university, in addition to the principal address by Oscar Myre. The meeting was under the direction of Mrs. J. E. Kuykendall, state superintendent of the penal reform work of the W. C. T. U.

The county officials provided a good dinner, with plenty of peach cobbler and sweet milk to finish up with, so that there was a sound material basis for the benefits received from the day.

Prisoners Express Gratitude. The fifteen white prisoners in the county jail each received a beautiful bouquet of roses from Mrs. B. F. Baker yesterday morning.

The prisoners joined in a vote of appreciation and the following tribute: "Roses, like sweet strains of music, change man's nature and inspire his heart to higher things. Flowers tend to break down the ragweed and thistle element that sometimes abound in the human heart. God loves the cheerful giver of those inspiring things that tend toward elevating and soothing the troubled mind. May his life's path be strewn with roses and a never-dying rose, as tribute to her generous deeds be a part of that plumage in the crown that adorns a thoughtful head and kind heart in an endless eternity." (Signed) The Prisoners.

Rescued to Move Election. Rosebud, Tex., Oct. 26.—Upon a petition signed by 44 resident taxpaying voters, the city council at a regular meeting acted favorably upon the request to order an election permitting the voters to pass upon the adoption of chapter 2, title 22, of the Revised Texas Civil Statutes for 1911, and has issued a proclamation calling the election for December 2, 1912, with H. C. Connally as presiding judge, with authority to select his own assistants. The council has also adopted an ordinance making it an offense to expostulate upon sidewalks and has ordered a number of cards printed and posted over the town, warning against violation of the ordinance, which is punishable by arrest and fine.

Heavy Rain at Dallas. Dallas, Oct. 26.—Heavy rains fell in Dallas Sunday morning followed by a cold wave which slackened to a marked degree Sunday's attendance at the Texas state fair. Saturday's attendance was more than 120,000 people. Sunday was Sacred Concert Day. Amusements were all open and there were attractions plentiful for the visitors in spite of the inclement weather.

Wedding at Cameron. Cameron, Tex., Oct. 26.—Jerome Krupa of this city and Miss Ermine Tryman of Marlin were married last night by Rev. W. A. ## KILLED IN THE DARK

TRAGIC FATE OVERTAKES FOSTER FATHER OF BAYLOR MATRON.

While Match J. W. Robbins Had Lighted to Signal Interurban Flared, Car Hit Him.

J. W. Robbins, an aged and highly respected citizen of Burleson, Johnson county, was run down by a Fort Worth-Cleburne interurban about 10 o'clock Saturday night as he was attempting to flag the car near his home and sustained injuries from which he died at 3 o'clock Sunday morning.

The news of the accident came in a telegram to Mrs. T. H. Claypool, matron of the Burleson-Brooks Halls at Baylor university, and niece and foster daughter of the deceased, at 5 o'clock Sunday morning and she and the members of her family left at once to attend the funeral.

Details of the Fatality. From the brief information that came in the message to Mrs. Claypool, it appears that Mr. Robbins had struck a match to signal the car to stop. It is presumed that he misjudged the distance of the car, being an old man, and that it came upon him before he recognized it was so near. His body was found lying mangled and he lingered until 3 o'clock Sunday morning when death relieved his sufferings.

Mr. Robbins was the father of Freeman Robbins and Mrs. Myrtle Robbins Loyless, former Baylor students, and the news of his untimely death will be received with regret by the many friends of the family.

PRESIDENT AT MOBILE

WILL ADDRESS SOUTHERN COMMERCIAL CONGRESS IN SESSION IN THAT CITY.

Will Honor Memory of Late Senator John T. Morgan, Advocate of Panama Canal.

Mobile, Ala., Oct. 26.—Featured by a speech by President Wilson, the seventh annual convention of the Southern Commercial Congress will be opened here tomorrow for the day session. In conjunction with the celebration of the opening of the Panama canal and a memorial to the late Senator John T. Morgan of Alabama, who for more than thirty years was a strong advocate of a water route across the isthmus.

President Wilson will arrive here early tomorrow morning and at 8 o'clock the ceremonies will be opened with a breakfast for the president. Later in the morning he will address the convention and will leave for Washington shortly after noon. Until late Saturday night it was not certain that the president would come here because of the delicate Mexican situation. When he leaves tomorrow it will be to hurry back to Washington, because of the Panama canal.

As the Panama canal soon is to be opened this is expected to be the most important convention the Southern Commercial Congress ever has held. No definite plan of action has been mapped out but the list of speakers is more imposing than heretofore and action taken at this convention is expected to have weight in future commerce of the south.

Tuesday at noon thirteen of the speakers will deliver addresses in a many crowded and auspicious in the city in honor of the memory of Senator Morgan.

Besides President Wilson, Secretary Daniels will address the congress and other speakers, including men of the south who had active interest in its development.

Daniels Approves "Naval Holiday." Secretary Daniels of the navy department, traveling with President Wilson to Mobile, today expressed his own approval of the suggestion of Winston Churchill, first lord of the admiralty of Great Britain, that the powers should agree to cease naval construction for a short period.

"I feel sure," said Mr. Daniels, "that if all the other naval building nations agreed to suspend their construction of the United States would also gladly do so. I think this suggestion follows as a direct sequence to Secretary Bryan's peace policy."

The secretary said he did not believe, however, that the Churchill suggestion would affect the immediate program of this government.

Mr. Daniels talked naval affairs with the president, but did not discuss the Churchill proposal.

Secretary Daniels said that neither he nor the president had reached any final decision on the battleship program. Mr. Daniels also said he would make no recommendations until he could obtain further information from Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo on expected revenues.

Mr. Daniels is in favor of an early trial of the budget system as a simplifying process of government expenditure and believes that under a budget system the question of how big the naval appropriation shall be could be more easily determined.

It is known that President Wilson is in sympathy with Secretary Daniels' idea of spending more money afloat and less on short equipment and also favors government ownership of an armor plate factory. It is the hope of Secretary Daniels that, by economy on land it may be possible to get three battleships without materially increasing the annual appropriation. Thus far, however, he has not committed himself as to the specific number of battleships he desires. He today intimated that he would defer the matter for another week at least, as other important questions now are demanding the attention of the president.

GLASS SAYS PLAN TO DELAY

States. Mr. Vanderlip in July objected to the long term of seven years provided by the substitute; but now in October he would stretch out the term to fourteen.

"Mr. Vanderlip, in his testimony before the senate committee, differed from his bill from the house bill in several important features, among them, 'Uniform, nation-wide discount rate instead of regional discount rate.'"

"Three months ago Mr. Vanderlip in his letter highly commended the house bill for its superiority to the Aldrich scheme in the very particular for which he now condemns the house bill in contrast with his own plan. I again quote from his letter of July 24:

"In one way the system of regional reserve banks has an advantage over the national reserve association proposed by the national monetary commission. The plan for a national association provided that there should be a uniform rate of discount throughout the United States. The present plan for regional reserve banks contemplates that the discount rates will vary in different sections of the country at the same time. Such variations of rate is sound banking."

"If variation of rate as provided in the house bill was sound banking in July, how did it happen that 'uniformity of rate' in the Vanderlip scheme is sound banking in October?"

In July Wanted No Change.

"In his letter to me last July Mr. Vanderlip accentuated the utter undependability in his view of any such departure from the existing national bank act, and warned the house committee that unless legislation should be made attractive to the national banks they would abandon the system. He was against 'doing violence to long-established methods,' he repeated substantially the outcry of the bankers against the 'force bill' and against the 'confiscatory' clause of the house measure, contending that the owners of banking capital should 'manage their own property and predict the failure if the house scheme should not be made more 'advantageous to the banks.'"

"Now, Mr. Vanderlip comes with a central bank scheme embodying every one of these objectionable features. If national banks will leave the system under the house bill how can they be expected to remain in under Mr. Vanderlip's plan of 'compulsion' and 'confiscation' and 'political control'?" "Has Mr. Vanderlip forgotten the tremendous protest of the bankers at Chicago recently, and at Boston later and in public addresses throughout the country, against the power lodged by the house bill with the president and with the federal reserve board over the banking business of the country? The house bill maintains the integrity of our independent banking system, co-ordinating it and using all its strength in time of stress, while Mr. Vanderlip's proposition simply destroys it.

Asks About Bankers' Protests. "Moreover, what becomes of the frantic protest of the American Bankers' association against that provision of the house bill which requires the reserve funds of the country to be kept in the vaults of the individual reserve banks and in the regional reserve banks? Mr. Vanderlip's plan provides practically the same thing."

"What becomes of the protest of the bankers against the power of the federal reserve board under the house bill, to suspend reserve requirements? Mr. Vanderlip proposes precisely the same thing."

"So I might continue indefinitely to point out the inconsistencies between Mr. Vanderlip's letter to me last July and his proposals before the senate banking committee in October. The conclusion that I reach from this whole performance is that this newest currency scheme, prepared as I am told by Mr. Vanderlip in conjunction with Mr. Davidson, of J. P. Morgan & Co., and Mr. Strong, with Standard Oil connections, is intended to confuse the question of banking and currency reform; or else it is hoped that by the adoption of some such scheme of absolute centralization it will be far easier hereafter for certain gentlemen to get control of it for certain purposes than would be possible under the proposed regional system."

"The platform upon which the democratic administration and the 63d congress were elected declares as follows:

"We oppose the so-called Aldrich bill or the establishment of a central bank."

"To undertake to deliberately repudiate this explicit declaration of the Baltimore platform would involve the democratic party in serious consequences and would render exceedingly remote the probability of currency legislation at any time soon. In my judgment it would be simply futile to attempt anything of the kind."

It is expected that a critical point will be reached in the senate committee's work before the end of this week. Senators Hitchcock, Reed and O'Gorman, the democrats on the committee who are inclined to endorse a single bank instead of the proposed system of separate regional banks, will enter the sessions without having committed themselves before definitely in support of the president's plan.

While President Wilson is confident of early action on the currency bill

CITY LIFE FULL OF TEMPTATIONS OUT OF CHURCH TO THE WORLD

SIN FLOURISHES IN POPULOUS
CENTERS, SAYS REV. J.
M. DAWSON.

TEMPLE PASTOR PREACHES

Eloquent Visiting Preacher's Strong
Sermon to Congregation of Brook
Avenue Baptist Church.

At the 11 o'clock services Sunday morning Rev. J. M. Dawson, pastor of the First Baptist church of Temple, preached a sermon in the series of the special meetings which are being conducted daily in the Brook Avenue Baptist church. His subject was "The City Joyful." Using the text, "And there was great joy in that city," Acts 8:8.

It is significant that Philip, like his master, laid siege to a city when he went forth in Christian conquest, and that he attacked the strategic capital city of an important province. "Since the founding of the first city in the dawn of time religion has been concerned with the city. Much of the contents of the Bible have to do with cities. Some one who has been at pains to count reports the name 'city' as occurring two hundred and sixty-two times in the Bible. Much of Jesus' time was occupied with the towns and cities.

"This fact is not strange because the city is the center of population is a concentration of life, activity and power. Here commerce accumulates its treasures, fashions receive their vogue, politics has its seat, and from thence emanate most of the great movements which affect the country.

"Now, while Christianity deals primarily with the individual it yet aims to permeate the whole of human society and is always grappling with social problems, and must always be until Jesus is enthroned in the life of the world and the kingdoms of earth become His kingdom.

"The city is the stronghold of sin. In it Satan has his seat, there he has digged his pit, spread his snares and made his den. Christianity's message is one of redemption, its mission is salvation from sin, and since sin has its citadel in these centers of population they constitute the chief objects of interest to Christ and His people.

"In the cities, too, suffering and sorrow have done their worst. Crime, squalor and oppression have conspired to bring souls from multitudes of victims. The city challenges Christianity to call out all its reserves for conquest.

"But we need never despair in this the greatest of all tasks. Man's final abode is portrayed as being a city whose water system will be the river of life, lighted so there will be no need of sun, moon or stars, whose sanitation will exclude sin and all uncleanness, and insure the absence of sickness, pain and death, and the environment of which will be the Father's will, perfectly performed. Toward this pattern will we work till there shall be a new heaven and a new earth, nor will we work in vain.

"Here is an example of a city's transformation: Samaria's sorrows were hushed, devils were driven out, broken lives were healed, and there was great joy in that city. There was a moral and physical reformation. The means employed was the gospel of Christ, the people with one accord gave heed unto the things which He spoke and the result was a regenerated city. In what more efficacious thing may we put confidence than this same gospel of Christ? True it proceeds by the slow process of saving individuals, but men are not redeemed en masse. The salvation of any society must be in the last analysis be accomplished through the saving of the individuals which compose that society. When the individual is saved he introduces a higher spirit into the life of the community.

Zacchaeus the Grafter.
"Zacchaeus, the extortioner, the grafter, receives Jesus and immediately restores his ill-gotten gains and becomes a humanitarian force. The saved man will join with all good men in the promotion of reforms, aye, he will be the originator of movements of human betterment. He will not deny education, legislation, the recognition of the laws of heredity and environment. But he will see all these after all are not adequate. He will see that no society can rise higher than the individuals which make it, and what is fundamentally needed is a divine work in the life of every man. Education without the gospel will make cities devilish, but the gospel in Paradise were not saved by environment or legislation. I would that every city's hell-hole were turned into a garden of God, but I fear it will never be done till we reach a sufficient number of men and women in each community with the gospel of redemption. On with evangelization!"

Laymen's Great Work.
"I cannot forbear pointing out that this great work was accomplished through a layman. The rapid progress of early Christianity was due to the activity of laymen. The present-day laymen's movement is a return to apostolic days. Every great period of Christian progress has been marked by the activity of the laymen in the churches.

"What took place under the preaching of Philip at Samaria was what we now call a revival. Such a revival is the greatest joy known to earth. How it does refresh a church and thrill a Christian! How it does cancel the debt of sin, heal the soul's diseases, reconcile communities, satisfy spiritual want in the life of the sinner, and create joy in the hearts of the angels of God over the sinner that repents.

"I saw such a revival once in a western town. To a little languishing church a man came and preached Christ. For years a feud had divided neighbors and poisoned the town's life. Men carried guns for each other and children hated parents.

Dramatic Scene in Church.
One night when the church was crowded and the two principals of the feud were present, one went over to his enemy and said: 'Sam, forgive me, and let us go give the preacher our hands and give God our hearts.' Under the gaze of every eye they went. Others and still others came. That night the lights burned all night in

MATERIAL AS WELL AS SPIRIT-
UAL, REV. E. E. INGRAM SAYS.

YEARNING OF HUMAN HEARTS

It is Always for the Things That Others Possess—Mission of Jesus Was to Transform Men.

Rev. E. E. Ingram, in his sermon at the Central Presbyterian church yesterday morning, emphasized the duty of the church to transform the physical condition of people in this world, and to create happiness by bringing health and wholesome ideas to the masses. "Our ideals," said the preacher, "are created by the things we see. Every picture of any sort is an invitation to transform that scene into actual life. All the incidents and surroundings of our daily life are mental pictures that tend to make or ruin the ideals of our lives."

The Things of Others.
"There seems to be a strange charm about the things one does not possess. The call of the things of others falls as sweetest music at times upon the ears of every one of us. The poor man longs for the riches of the wealthy. The costly furnishings of the rich man's home, the luxuries he is able to enjoy, awaken an intense longing in the mind of the poor man. The absence of money, a good appetite, and the restless and peaceful sleep of the poor man is the envy of the rich.

What a glorious world this would be if every one were satisfied with what he had. But there are some things we might long for. The sick man longs for health, the weak for strength, the afflicted for release.

Want "More of Life."
Consciously or unconsciously, for the sake of our health, for the sake of our life, we are all longing for more life. To improve one's condition is the constant desire and struggle of every right minded individual. That improved condition has as its objective more life.

Abundant life brings joy now and illumines the future, making it bright with promise. This call within the things we do not have, this call within the heart for a larger life, is the very thing Jesus appeals to in the text.

"I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly."

It seems to me that Jesus tells the whole purpose of his ministry in this text, and contemplates answering the deepest desire of all hearts. His mission is to give us the things we most need, abundant life. And when our hearts are analyzed, it is the thing we most desire.

To Transform Men.
Expressed in the largest possible terms, Jesus proposed to transform men.

"I am come that they may have life, and that they may have it more abundantly." Did they not have life already? Yes, but evidently not the right kind of life. Life is one thing, but a transformed life is quite another.

Jesus came to transform men, first, physically. The word physical is here employed in its larger meaning. It is intended to include all that relates to our material well being. The mission of Jesus is in part at least to make living easier, better and happier for every individual of the race. His mission gives a prompt and a firm affirmative answer to Cain's question, "Am I my brother's keeper?"

If this conception of the mission of Jesus be correct, then his cause has still to do with the health of the people. There can be no abundant life where disease abounds. Abundant life glows with rosy cheeks. A prominent and well known Christian once remarked, "The church has no business with a man's dirty face, or naked back, or empty stomach. The church has just one business with a man, and that is to save his soul."

Never Preached to the Hungry.
"I wonder if it ever occurred to him that Jesus never at any time preached to a hungry crowd. And I am sure it does, Jesus once wrought a miracle to fill several thousand empty stomachs. If the church would follow her Lord and Master, she must go and do likewise.

"A hungry people are not properly fortified against the ravages of disease. After his resurrection, Jesus' first word to his disciples in Galilee was 'Children, have ye aught to eat?' And this he did because he was solicitous for their welfare, not his own.

"When he sent his disciples forth, he commissioned them among other things, to heal the sick. Whatever, therefore, threatens the health of a community, is the concern of the church.

"The 'safety first' movement of the railroads is in the right direction, and deserves the backing of the pulpit and press, because it tends to preserve the physical well being of the individual. The gospel of Jesus Christ is the gospel of good health, and therefore happiness.

The Church and Commerce.
"The transformation of men physically embraces the great labor question. If men are to be transformed, the things they do for a livelihood, the church should be vitally interested in all industrial pursuits. We should be on the side of improved conditions. She is commissioned to do her utmost to see that the laboring man gets a square deal, and she will be able to demand that the laboring man give a square deal in return for his wages.

"The transformation of men physically includes within its scope the question of amusement. This is a huge question. Men and women as well as children must play.

the homes of the people and heaven greeted the city. Oh, what a change the gospel made in the homes, in the schools, in the business district, in the town's politics, in the social side, all because it changed the hearts of a hundred of the citizens in a single week. What happened there and what happened in Florence under Savonarola, and what happened in Samaria under Philip, might happen in any city, and there would be great joy in every such city."

At the end of Mr. Dawson's sermon there were several additions to the church announced. The special services at Brook Avenue Baptist will continue through this week.

MORAL OF REV. H. D. KNICKER-BOCKER'S SERMON AT AUSTIN AVE.

WE MUST BEAR OUR BURDEN

Lighter-than-air Craft Destined to Fail Because the Principle is Wrong, He Says.

Rev. H. D. Knickerbocker, in his sermon on "Balloons versus Birds," at the Austin Avenue Methodist church, said:

"The theory of balloons is that flying craft must be lighter than air, but experiments with balloons have proven that the lighter-than-air craft are destined to fail. Their principle is wrong.

"The true principle of flight is that of the bird, heavier than air but borne onward and upward by soaring wings. Men failed in their efforts at conquering the air until they followed the example of the bird.

Legend of the Bird's Wing.
"A beautiful old legend runs as follows: Birds in the beginning were without wings. They ran about like other creatures, bound to the earth. But there came a time when the Creator set the birds a task, and to each of them gave a burden. Some of the birds refused the labor set them; but to those who accepted the task, there came a wonderful transformation. The burdens became wings, and the birds were borne aloft into the heavens.

"The story illustrates the plan of God in this world. To those who accept the labor set before them, he will supply the strength to rise above the low levels of the earth.

The Man Who Feared.
"An old soldier lay dying. He had lived a clean and honorable life. He had been a chivalrous soldier. A court martial would have had no terrors for him; his record was clear. But when he was summoned to the task, he must meet his master before many hours, that he must answer the question, 'What have you done for me?' his face grew ashy. He had betrayed his trust. The labor that his Lord had given to him he had left undone.

All Who Will.
"Like a little boy, who has played in his mother's garden all the day, and hearing her return in the evening, remembers too late the task she set him, so was the old soldier. It was not fear of wrath in the face of the master, but sorrow for the love that had been betrayed.

"The doors are thrown open to all who will, that they may enter upon the service of the master. How shall we account for the talents that are entrusted to our care? Shall the meeting with the master be a joyful one, or shall it be as a court of judgment?"

Robin Hood.

Misha Ferenzo, the handsome young tenor who will sing the title role in "Robin Hood" at the Auditorium Wednesday night, was born in Russia and educated there and in Berlin and subsequently studied piano and singing in Italy.

Ferenzo discovered his voice through an incident that landed him in jail. While a student in Berlin, he joined a party of fellow Russians one night, who were singing and carousing. Ferenzo's voice, much to their surprise, rang out above all the others and they placed him on a table and commanded him to sing their Russian folk song, "Volga." While he was performing, the door of his cell, the police entered, thinking that it was a nihilist uprising and dragged the future rival of Caruso off to jail.

Almost everything is "verboten" in Germany, but Ferenzo escaped with a reprimand and was then induced by his comrades to take up the cultivation of his voice.

He graduated at the Royal Conservatory in Berlin, and then went to Milan to perfect himself. He has the advantage of the pure Italian method and the study strength of his fatherland and his voice is of wonderful quality and untiring strength.

His understudy with "Robin Hood" never gets a chance as he never missed a performance last season, nor has this.

He has sung at the Royal Opera in Dresden and the Imperial Opera in Petersburg, and has mastered the English language so that he makes an ideal out in "Robin Hood."

Like a great many Russians, Mr. Ferenzo intends to become an American citizen, and has taken out preliminary papers to that effect.

"Ready Money."

"Ready Money" is the happy but somewhat misleading title of the international success which is announced for an engagement at the Auditorium tonight under the management of William A. Brady, Ltd.

Like all successful plays, "Ready Money" has "love and the woman" closely woven in its structure, the use of money being the accessory to the fact, rather than the fact itself.

The love story is told in a comedy vein, with tense and exquisite moments mixed in, but the element of "weeping" drama is absent. The sentiment is the love and romance as the women are thinking about it today.

Stephen Baird, a rich young man, is engaged to Grace Tyler. Through speculation he becomes poor, except for his interest in an Arizona mine.

The girl's mother declares there shall be no wedding. While his sweet heart is quite willing to make any sacrifice, the mother's opposition is so strong that Stephen finds he must positively obtain wealth to outwit his future mother-in-law.

That he wins out and gets both his girl and money shows how a man can be spurred on to any accomplishment through the influence of love. "Ready Money" comes with a record of eight months at Maxine Elliott Theatre, New York, and eight months at Sir Charles Wyndham's new theatre in London.

"ROMANCE OF BILLY GOAT HILL."

At the Auditorium Theatre Tomorrow Night.

The Memphis Press says: "If you've ever seen 'Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch,' you'll never forget it. And at the Lyceum Monday there is its sequel, 'A Romance of Billy Goat Hill.'"

Comparing it with 'Mrs. Wiggs' ought to be criticism enough. For 'Mrs. Wiggs' was one of those plays that comes but once or twice in a life time without a blemish or flaw, without a chance for harm. Only a little novel by Alice Hegan Rice.

"So is 'A Romance of Billy Goat Hill,' a play with a laugh in every line and a story as lifelike and natural as home itself.

"We never have a chance to brand such stories as masterpieces, for the mere reason that they are of another strain, entirely different from the usual run of sentimental plays.

"But if Anna was worth $2, 'A Romance of Billy Goat Hill' is worth $5."

CIRCLE A GINGER ALE

WEATHER CONDITION HINDERS DOPE

Most All the Big Elevens Play on Wretchedly Muddy Fields—Several of the Larger Colleges Fall Before Minors—Yale Looks Bad.

New York, Oct. 26.—Football played under the weather conditions that prevailed throughout the eastern states Saturday is of comparatively little value for purposes of comparison when the leading university elevens are under consideration. Almost without exception the games were played on rain-drenched gridirons. It was one of the worst football days encountered by teams of this section in several years and upset carefully planned campaigns of more than one coach.

By all the rules of football, it was a day when weight should have counted as the margin of victory, but there were glaring exceptions. Dartmouth's defeat of Princeton by a 6 to 0 score was a striking example. Although pounds lighter, Dartmouth completely outplayed the Tiger team and the score failed to show the superiority of the New Jersey aggregation. Both offensively and defensively, the green had the edge on the orange and black and there is no reason for an opinion that upon a dry field victory would have swung the other way.

Dartmouth was quick to penetrate the weakness of the center of Princeton's line of defense. On the theory that misery loves company, Princeton and Yale have a fraternal feeling today, the Elis having failed just as diametrically to distinguish themselves against Washington and Jefferson as did Princeton against Dartmouth.

The blue was outplayed in offensive tactics and but for flashes of the strong defense which has been shown at New Haven all the season, would have been scored upon and probably defeated.

The result verified the belief that Yale has yet to develop an attack that can win from her most formidable foe.

Elis Poor Score.

In six games the Elis while not scored upon, have scored but 35 points in 325 minutes of play. At present Yale and Princeton appear to be about evenly matched, considered broadly, but neither is a finished or exceptionally promising football team.

Compared to Harvard, which each will meet in the next few weeks, the Tigers and Elis apparently are out-classed.

Harvard's 23-to-0 victory over Pennsylvania State college was all that her supporters could desire. Had the field been dry it is possible Pennsylvania State might have proved more formidable. Since Washington and Jefferson, which held Yale to a no-score tie on Saturday, defeated Pennsylvania State, 17-to-0, a week ago, the crimson cohorts figure the 29-to-0 victory over the same team served as a satisfactory standard for a comparison of the present relative strength of Harvard and Yale.

The gloom is not confined entirely to Yale and Princeton, however, for Pennsylvania, Cornell and the Army received severe setbacks Saturday. The best the Quakers could do to Carlisle was 7 to 7, due to a sensational 50-yard run by Marshall late in the game.

But for several determined stands at critical moments and Marshall's exploit, Pennsylvania would have been defeated. The heavy but fast University of Pittsburgh team, already victors over Carlisle, added Cornell to the list of victims by a score of 20 to 7. Cornell's touchdown resulted from a series of line plunges and end runs which indicated the Ithaca eleven is rounding into promising form.

The Army's margin of victory over Tufts was the smallest possible coming as the result of a fumble in the pass which the visitors turned into a safety. Considering the wretched playing conditions the two elevens were evenly matched.

At the same hour the Army's greatest rival, the Naval academy, was running up her biggest score of the season, 70 to 0, against the Maryland Agricultural College at Annapolis.

In the middle west the Michigan "Vagabonds" added Wisconsin's conference champions to their list of victims, taking the Badgers into camp by the same score as that by which they defeated the University of Michigan.

Chicago won from Purdue, which previously had tied Wisconsin by a 6-to-0 score, due to field goals from the toe of Quarterback Russell. Illinois defeated Indiana, 10 to 0, and Minnesota rolled up 30 points to South Dakota's cipher.

Coach Yost took his Wolverines to Nashville, Tenn., and overwhelmed brother-in-law "Dan" McGugin's team. The final score being Michigan 23, Vanderbilt 2.

The New Zealand all-black rugby team was scored on yesterday for the first time in its American tour, the University of California varsity rugby team did it. The score was 23 to 3 against California.

STRAIGHT GAME SOUTH'S STYLE

MORE IMPORTANT BATTLES IN DIXIE LAST WEEK WERE REGULAR FOOTBALL.

SITUATION IS COMPLICATED

Vanderbilt's Defeat and Sewanee's Good Showing Are Both Surprises.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 26.—Football in Dixie this season promises to prove even more complex than it has in previous years. With the smoke of yesterday's gridiron battles throughout the south cleared away, experts today were busily figuring on the comparative strength of the various elevens which will battle for the S. I. A. A. championship of 1913.

Easily the greatest surprise among yesterday's games was the Georgia-Virginia clash. It had been predicted that Georgia would not be able to hold the heavier veterans from Charlottesville to a close score and many Georgia supporters admitted that hopes of the red and black were limited to scoring. The fact that Virginia was held to a tie until the last few minutes of play and won by the narrow margin of 13 to 6 therefore, was regarded as a distinct surprise.

Vanderbilt's poor showing against Michigan proved a surprise. Yost's Wolverines apparently outclassed the Commodores in every department and predictions now are made by gridiron experts that Vanderbilt will have to show great improvement in order to meet the standard of play already set by Auburn, Georgia and Sewanee.

Sewanee's stubborn fight with Texas at Dallas indicated that the Tigers are an important factor in the S. I. A. A. race.

Florida's showing against Georgia Tech, yesterday also was a surprise, it having been thought that the Floridians would prove easy pickings for the Yellow Jackets. Auburn recently defeated Florida by a large score, while the best Tech could do was to win 13 to 3. While Georgia Tech, having its hard battle with Florida, Auburn was rolling up a score of 34 to 0 against Mississippi A. and M., a team formerly regarded as a strong contender for southern football honors.

While much of the scoring in yesterday's games was the direct result of cleverly executed forward passes, it was significant that the majority of the winning teams depended for this best ground gaining on "straight football" with few trick formations. As a result the element of luck was not a deciding factor in the more important contests.

Next Saturday should witness a number of battles of even greater interest than those played yesterday. Georgia meets North Carolina. Sewanee plays Georgia Tech. Virginia clashes with Vanderbilt. Auburn faces Louisiana State, and Mississippi A. and M. is matched with the Texas Aggies. In addition to these there will be a number of interesting games of less importance. Not until next week will it be possible to measure the strength of the leading elevens with any degree of accuracy.

Cross-Ritchie Bout Postponed.

New York, Oct. 26.—The ten round bout between Leach Cross and Willie Ritchie which was to have taken place here next Wednesday night has been postponed to November 10 because of an injury sustained by Cross. He will be able to fight November 10.

MICHIGAN AGGIES ARE STRONG

Occupy Commanding Position in the West—Illinois and Chicago Look Good in Conference Race.

Chicago, Oct. 26.—In football play Michigan Agricultural college occupies the commanding position in the west. Leadership decisions are yet to be made in "the big nine" conference. Most of the games scheduled last spring as championship battles are yet to be fought. Chicago's team with a declared weakness in the line placed itself firmly in the race Saturday by its defeat of Purdue. In Saturday's game the Maroons' kicking and covering of kicks was superb.

Coach Yost showed three weaknesses, inability to kick, inability to cover short and high kicks and inability to handle long and elusive spirals. Illinois proved its right for another week at least in select company by defeating the Indiana team. The Illinois men have a hard month's play ahead of them, meeting four "big nine" teams in succession. Its battle with Chicago this week is decisive on its schedule.

Bracklin Credited With Touchdown.

Carlisle, Pa., Oct. 26.—Coach Glenn Warner announced today that it was Bracklin, the Indian right halfback and Vet Guyon, left halfback, who scored the touchdown against the University of Pennsylvania eleven in their annual football game Saturday.

Giants 6, White Sox 2.

Kansas City Oct. 26.—The New York Giants today 6 to 2. White, first baseman of the Sox, lined up a three bagger in the sixth drove in two men and saved the team from a rout.

Score: Giants 6, White Sox 2. 602 303 906-6 8 2 Sox 002 600 2 10 2

Real Estate For Sale.

Are you the owner of the place in which you live, or do you just "PAY RENT"? Now, as a matter of fact, don't you think it would be better to put that same amount paid out each month in rent into a payment on a home and after a short time, have something which would prove a profitable investment. Listen to this:

A modern 6-room house in Waco Vista for only $4750; $750 cash and the balance like rent.

We offer an exceptionally good value in a fine home on Vermont Ave., just a block from the city hall, beautiful shade trees, large 6-room residence, good barn and servants' house; walks and curbing. Price $4250.

On Haring avenue, nice 2-story home for $5500. This is a real bargain.

Large 6-room house near the new public school for only $5500.

Two good cottages, 600 block on N. 11th St. Price $3500; more work.

$1750 buys a finely located lot with a 4-room cottage, right on the corner of N. 10th St. If you are seeking a good investment, see this.

A new 5-room bungalow on the south side for $3000; cash payment, balance to suit purchaser.

Near Baylor University, a good 10-room house, lot 50x125; feet, now renting for $25 per month. Will take $3500 for $4000 and give best of terms.

Two choice lots in Farwell Heights to be sold at a sacrifice if sold within a bargain time. If interested, in a bargain, see us at once.

$750 for two well located lots in Farwell Heights, each with a good house, for some one, as $150 cash will handle this.

$650 secures for you a first-class lot in Glenorchio addition, one-third cash, balance on easy terms.

24 lots in South Waco, within one block of city line. Price $1400.

5 choice lots on Bell's Hill, $1500. These are as pretty little spots found anywhere in this locality and can be secured on very reasonable terms.

$1250 for two well located lots in Glenorchio addition. This is an A-1 proposition as an investment.

DRAGGED 50 FEET, M'GILL MAY DIE

AUTO CONTAINING THREE GIRLS,
CRASHES INTO MESSENGER'S
MOTORCYCLE.

BOTH MACHINES WRECKED

All Feminine Occupants of the Car
Escape Unharmed—Injured Lad
Lives Near Marlin.

Tom McGill, 17 years old, employed as a messenger for the Morrison drug store, lies at the Provident sanitarium seriously injured as the result of a collision between the motorcycle on which he was riding and an automobile occupied by Misses Lucille Puett, Eunice Puett and Eureka Bottom at Columbus and Twelfth streets yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock.

Boy Dragged 50 Feet.
The boy was on an errand when his motorcycle and the car carrying the three young ladies crashed at the street corner. The automobile carried the motorcycle and its rider fully 50 feet along the street, the lad being dragged over the roadbed most of that distance. The young girl steering the machine lost control and the auto, pushing the bicycle, crashed into a pole. Both machines were badly damaged, the motorcycle being completely wrecked. The three girls escaped unharmed.

Internal Injuries Feared.
Young McGill was taken to the sanitarium, where examination disclosed that his injuries were of a grave nature. He has probably suffered internal hurts, the extent of which cannot be determined at this time. His home is in the county, near Marlin.

DELAY IN TRIAL IS EXPLAINED

Beaty Will Not Plead Until Appeal of Wyres Is Heard From—Both Sides Agreed.

The reason for the long delay in bringing to trial Bounce Beaty, who is charged jointly with Buss Wyres and Dud Reed with killing and beheading John Richey, near Marlin, last May, was explained yesterday when the announcement was made that the appeal in the case of Buss Wyres had been forwarded to the court of criminal appeals.

Wyres was tried for the crime in Marlin. He was convicted and was sentenced to life imprisonment. Through his counsel he appealed from the verdict and the case has been since pending. It is understood that by agreement of the attorneys for Wyres—George Carter and Tom Connolly—with County Attorney Frank Ottorf of Marlin, the arraignment of Beaty was indefinitely postponed and the man, who is the only one of the three accused not already tried, will be called upon to plead as soon as the appeal of Wyres is heard from.

Beaty is the youngest of the three men charged with the horrible crime. He is said to have just passed his 18th year.

ADORNING PALACE FOR KING COTTON

DIRECTORS WILL HOLD THE
LAST REGULAR MEETING
TONIGHT.

EXHIBITS COME IN RAPIDLY

Big Show Begins Taking Shape Today.
Buildings and Grounds in Readiness for Attractions.

The directors of the Texas Cotton Palace will hold their last regular meeting tonight before the opening of the big exposition. Next Saturday at 8 o'clock the gates will be thrown open for the admission of the public, at 9 o'clock the buildings will be entirely ready for the visitors and the 1913 show will be on in earnest.

Sheriff S. S. Fleming, who is general grand marshal of all the parades, will meet with the directors tonight and all formations of the various spectacular pageants will be discussed. All Waco is united in the matter of putting on the most interesting and instructive civic, allegorical and historical parades of any Cotton Palace season.

Grounds Are Beautiful.

The Cotton Palace can indeed boast of the most beautiful exposition grounds of the south. Nature herself has wrought with magic. Men and women in addition have added deft touches here and there, with the result, that His Majesty, King Cotton, possesses the most lovely lawns and promenades, where his subjects may make merry.

The Palace Proper.

The main building of the Cotton Palace is a perfect dream of beauty and enchantment. The tens of thousands of visitors will be delighted with the wondrous changes that have been made. Brilliant are the conceptions and perfect are the executions in cotton, again and decorative material of all kinds.

New Buildings.

The new buildings will be promptly turned over to the Cotton Palace management ere the opening, and they will be modern in every respect. With the purchase of more grounds and the additional buildings it has become possible for the making of a much greater exposition this fall.

Chrysanthemum Show.

A visit to the Cotton Palace grounds discloses 10,000 white, purple and golden chrysanthemums that have grown to maturity to delight the multitudes during the exposition period. These aristocrats of the floral kingdom are going to strongly vie with the other added attractions for the major portion of the praise of the populace who take in the big show.

Women's Exhibits.

Mrs. J. W. Bass, general chairman of the women's departments, and all the superintendents of the various divisions, are giving every one notice in every conceivable way that entries will be acceptable this coming Tuesday and Wednesday also, beginning at 10 a. m. on each day, and as there is a great deal of work connected with the artistic placing of the exhibits, promptness on the part of exhibitors is asked.

Women's Day Post Cards.

The Woman's day post cards proved so very popular that Mrs. Bass has requested 10,000 more. This new supply will be ready Tuesday, and all ladies who will send them out to their friends in Central Texas may secure same at the principal downtown stores free for the asking. As matters now look there is going to be a veritable outburst of femininity and flowery for the Woman's day parade, Saturday, November 8, at 2 p. m., which will be participated in by various towns of Central Texas as well as Waco.

The Baby Show.

The press of Texas generally has exploited the baby show, the 1913 Cotton Palace, Monday, November 8, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The request is made that each tiny tot be accompanied by only one grown person, either the mother, the father or some one of kin. The exhibit floor will be taxed to capacity with the entries when accompanied by one grown person, and it is desired that the tremendous crowds that will be on hand to watch the show and learn the outcome of the awards may have all the room possible.

Down Town Decorations.

The stores of Waco are being decorated as never before. Soon the trolley guy wires will have floating therefrom various flags and bunting, which will give Waco the gayest holiday appearance.

The electrical illuminations will illuminate all former exposition periods. Waco will be fairly ablaze with electricity during the entire sixteen days of the Cotton Palace.

Advance Sale of Tickets.

The advance sale of season tickets and reserved seats has resulted in over a thousand people being placed in possession of the necessary passports to a good time at any time during the exposition period, and as many times a day as desired. Many hustling young men and women and older ones, too, have profited by the offer of the directors to give a season ticket with every 35 adult season tickets or their equivalents sold. The sale of tickets will necessarily close this week and it is in order for all who desire to have the privilege of going morning, afternoon and night, at any time, and without delay in getting through the gates, to provide themselves with season tickets. Klerly's band plays at 10:30 every morning in the coliseum, also in the afternoon and night, and many will want to hear the different concerts of this great band. Each program will be different.

Girls Have Tomato Club.

Milano, Tex., Oct. 26.—The Girls' Tomato Club met at the school building Friday and reorganized for the coming year. The officers are Miss Maud Hooker, president; Miss Althea Silver, secretary; Miss Clara Miller, reporter. The club will display increased activity during the present year and interest will be maintained by meetings held on Saturday in each month at the home of the various members. The club has furnished a creditable exhibit to the Dallas state fair and hopes to follow the custom of previous years in capturing its share of prizes for Milano county.

SAN R. EVANS DEAD

A PIONEER CITIZEN OF WACO
CLOSES HIS LONG LIFE
HERE.

Was Resident of Waco for Sixty Years.
Served in Civil War—Funeral
This Afternoon.

Died at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at his residence on South Fourth street, Sam R. Evans, aged 71 years.

For more than sixty years Captain Sam Evans has been a resident of Waco. He was born in Georgia in April, 1842, and in 1851 the family came to Texas, locating in Waco. In 1868 he was married in this city to Mattie Johnson, and had five children, three sons and two daughters. His wife died in 1908. His children are as follows: Mrs. S. W. Gaines of Chilton, Miss Ruth Evans, Fred K. Evans, Miss Earle Evans, Sam J. Evans and one sister, Mrs. F. A. Inge of Corinth, Miss.

A Pioneer Citizen.

Beginning his citizenship in Waco in the early days of the white men and about Waco, he was one of the pioneers of the county. He stood side by side with others who were driving the Indians from this stronghold and who worked to build the town and county. At the beginning of the civil war he went into the confederate army as a member of Company A, Sixth Texas cavalry. Afterwards he was transferred to the Fifteenth Mississippi cavalry, being promoted to first lieutenant, serving four years in that capacity.

Widely Known in State.

Returning after the war, he resumed his citizenship in Waco, and building his fortune year by year by earnest efforts, he was looked upon as one of the substantial men of the community. He was widely known in this section of the state, and had many friends. He was of modest and retiring disposition, but was a man of firm opinions on all matters of public interest. In the last few years he has retired from active business affairs, although he carried his age well, but he had accumulated a competence sufficient to give him rest in the winter of his life, and his activities were brought to a close.

Funeral This Afternoon.

The funeral will occur this afternoon from the family residence, No. 265 South Fourth street, at 4 o'clock. Rev. F. N. Calvin officiating, interment in Oakwood. Bolton, Judge C. R. Gerald, Judge John C. West, E. Rotan, Judge W. H. Jenkins and Eli Ditto. Among those selected as honorary pall bearers are men who were his comrades in the civil war and who have been his friends since he returned from the army.

Members of Pat Cleburne Camp,

United Confederate Veterans, on whose roster his name appears, will attend the funeral this afternoon.

WACO GIRLS LIVELY BOOSTERS

Goldstein-Miguel Saleswomen Surpass
Male Companions in Advertising
Cotton Palace on Dallas Trip.

The special train carrying the employees of the Goldstein-Miguel company whirled away over the tracks of the M. & T. shortly after 7 o'clock this morning. There were nearly 150 in the party of excursionists. They spent the day at the Dallas fair, returning at a late hour last night.

The coaches the special were gaily decorated with banners and streamers bearing advertisements for the Cotton Palace and the city of Waco. The Goldstein-Miguel sales people proved themselves adept boosters, making their presence known all along the route. Advertising matter provided by the Cotton Palace publicity department and the Y. M. C. B. L. was lavishly scattered on the way to the fair.

Girls Are Good Boosters.

The girls of the party were bubbling over with enthusiasm and put in some splendid boosting. The excursionists reported on their return: home a jolly day, despite the chilly atmosphere and cloudy skies. They devoted the whole time to sightseeing and getting all the enjoyment possible out of their brief stay in Dallas. The expense of the trip was borne by the employees of the big department store, each contributing to the general fund to defray the cost of the special and for other accommodations.

WACO MAN WEDS IN DALLAS

Miss Baylor M. Tobian Becomes the Bride of I. S. Segall—Pretty Home Wedding.

A pretty nuptial event of the social season in Dallas was the marriage in that city yesterday of I. S. Segall, manager of the United Sample shoe store, this city, and Miss Baylor M. Tobian.

The ceremony took place at 5 o'clock in the afternoon at the home of the bride's mother, 2387 Hickory street. It was witnessed by a large party of friends and relatives of the bride and bridegroom. The couple will make their future home in Waco.

Builds Home for Bride.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. H. Tobian and is popular in the younger society set in Dallas. Mr. Segall is a former resident of this city. He came here about ten months ago to take charge of the store he is now managing. Mr. and Mrs. Segall will occupy a house on Barron street, between Fifteenth and Sixteenth, which is now being built for them. They will be at home to their friends in a short time.

Sanger Storeitorial
This Store Meets Every Requirement in Its Service to You
We look upon service as being something more than merely waiting upon you and taking the money. The basic principles of service rest on qualities that can be relied upon—in assortments that truly reflect the best designing thought of the time—and placing such merchandise before you at prices that represent a keen determination to be actually as low as worthy merchandise can be sold for. In every one of these features the Sanger Store qualifies.
But we go still further—to the extension of credit for convenience. "Credit" is a much abused word—and the ordinary use of it does not comprehend in theory or practice what it stands for at Sangers. This store is founded upon a policy that is liberal and progressive—we welcome straight-out charge accounts. That is what our "Credit" means. It is surrounded by no embarrassments and no legal chains. You charge your purchases here—only because it is a convenience. You are not taxed for the privilege. And the prices are no different.
You simply establish a credit—a responsibility to which every well-disposed man or woman is entitled. We are extending to you in a retail way exactly the same recognition that every responsible merchant strives to enjoy in the larger wholesale way.
Credit is the bulwark of the individual—the corporation—the nation. It's the estimate in which we are held by others. And we hold our patrons in high enough esteem to grant this accommodation—not as a favor—but as their commercial right.
THE INTERURBAN AND ALL WACO STREET CARS COME HERE CHEAPEST.
